Wounded Animal Policy

In the unfortunate event that an animal is wounded, or blood is drawn, no matter how lethal the shot may have been, that is YOUR animal. You will not be permitted to hunt another animal.

Advantage Outfitters will do everything in our power to retrieve that animal. We will continue to look for your animal for the duration of your hunt. In the unlikely event that we do not recover your animal, due to the strict management plan on our leases, your tag will be considered “filled” and your hunt for that animal will be concluded.

By signing I agree that I have read and understand the wounded animal policy of Advantage Outfitters.
